Charge-conserving DG-PIC schemes with resampling

Martin Campos Pinto[1]

[1]Laboratoire JL Lions, CNRS & UPMC, Paris, France

In this talk we describe a structure-preserving discretization of the Maxwell-Vlasov system that involves a non-conforming finite-element solver for the field and a particle method for the kinetic plasma density, with periodic particle resamplings. The method is based on an exact sequence of discrete operators and a proper continuity equation that is satisfied by the coupled scheme.